Requirements

- You should already have Microsoft Excel (version 2003 and up). Obviously the newer the better, but VBA works the same in all versions. It's just that newer versions have more options, thus more VBA Commands to control those options.
- Very very basic Excel skills needed for this course (like opening the program, how to click on cells and type things.) You really don't need any Excel experience, because I'll take you from Start to Finish in this course. I was just trying to be funny.

Who this course is for

This Excel course is for anyone who wants to learn Automation secrets in Excel VBA. It's for complete newbies and/or students looking for a refresher or Reference tool, to pick and choose relevant lessons for their projects. No prior programming knowledge is needed.

This course is probably not for you if you're looking to learn super advanced report authoring, which will be covered in a future course specifically on this topic. We will, however, make sure you know how to make good solid reports from your data and many tricks to make them look good.

Beginning to Advanced Excel users who are ready to Automate their projects and use extremely customizable macros, build their own UserForms and learn the fundamentals of programming in a safe, easy, progressive way
